IMPROVEMENTS FOR THE

YEAR 1891.

Since the advent of the railway our town has steadily progressed. The improvements for the present year amounts to over $50,000. Some fine private residences have been erected, and some extensive improvements done. The town has also made some very substantial public improvements, in the way of sidewalks, grading, sewerage etc. The School Board has kept pace with the times and erected a large addition to the Central school, and the town now has a large handsome and commodious building for educational purposes, with an efficient and painstaking staff of teachers. The Presbyterians have erected a very handsome brick church which will be seated in the most modern style, and capable of holding about 400. Besides the improvements named, the Prince Albert

Electric Light Company has thrown more light upon the town, and now all the business houses and many private residences use the incandescent light. The Bell Telephone system is also in operation, and a large amount of real estate has changed hands during the year. New settlers have also found their way here,

a number making their homes in town,

but a large number locating in the district surrounding the town. The following list shows who done the work and who paid for it, as far as done by our contractors, considerable work having been done in a private manner which would probably add on another $1,000:

TIMBER.

The question of firewood for the winter months may be of small account to either the Government or their officials, and it is one that can be easily settled by business or professional men, but to the workman, the man who by hard work alone can hope to provide his family with the necessities of life, it is a serious matter, and just now this class of settlers are beginning to feel the pressure of the hard and fast interpretation placed by those in authority on the crown timber regulations. In former years these men were able to secure constant employment in getting out necessary firewood alone, but a year or so ago some keen sighted official detected that the straight letter of the law did not allow of one settler burning the wood gotten out on a permit in any other name than his own. The consequence was that many were mulcted into dues to the tune of 50 cents a cord, and given to understand that in future if they wished to burn wood they must run the gauntlet of the crown timber office themselves. The unnecessary trouble this unreasonable order entails is almost sufficient in itself to justify its being violated. In any case results are likely to be seriously felt. Many refusing longer to tolerate the regulation nuisance have already started burning coal, and the wood cutter must pay the penalty by having his earnings reduced. We are not of those who claim that the Government have no authority for administering the timber of the country, neither do we claim that this wood should be allowed free, but we do claim that when thousands of cords of fallen timber are annually going to waste, and when many poor people could be benefited and greater safety for the balance of our timber assured by its removal, the work should not be handicapped by regulations such as are in existence today. There is no justification for the Government's refusal to allow of dead timber being cut for local purposes. Let them collect regular dues if they like, but they should hesitate before placing further obstacles in the way of honest labor which will in no way affect the public revenue, and is certain to protect for future use the timber now standing.

There are some features in connection with the Gothenburg system which may possibly satisfy the people of the Territories, should that license law be carried in the Assembly, but there are others which we feel certain will not satisfy the people. We will continue to look forward with interest to the ordinance based on this system, which it is said Messrs. Cayley and Lineham have in course of preparation. Ontario has studied this question very carefully, and even at the expense of being accused of prejudice, we feel like saying that the Legislature of that fair province is not a bad example for ours to follow. By it liquor is placed under local control, which after all has been said, is the safest, most economical and by long odds the most satisfactory way of curtailing the evils of the liquor traffic.

TOWN COUNCIL.

In previous years ratepayers have given far too little attention to the proper selection of men for our Municipal Council. They have generally taken an active part in securing an occupant for the Mayor's chair, but the balance of the Council has in nearly every case been allowed to shift for itself, and has in most cases been filled by men who took enough interest in public affairs to fight their own way into the chamber. This is not as it should be. While it is well that those interested should secure the best possible man as Mayor, they should not lose sight of the important fact that among the balance of the Council will always be found those who can do the greatest amount of good to the town, the importance of having only the very best men in all departments of our municipal institution should receive the active attention of every ratepayer. Fortunately for the town the past year's Council have, in nearly every case, looked well after our interests. Large expenditures have been made during their term, and they can congratulate themselves on having so carefully guarded the public interest that hitherto, if any criticism have been directed against them. Mistakes may have been made, but none of a serious nature have yet been spoken of. The coming year will also witness a fairly heavy expenditure of money, and ratepayers owe it to themselves and the municipality, to see that no inferior men secure the control or management of it. The public should take early steps that would assure a Council for 1892 in every respect equal to the one whose term of office is about closing. If the old members cannot be induced to stand for another term, then see to it that only men of equal ability and integrity are selected to fill their places.

PRESENTATION.

On Monday evening last, a very pleasant time was spent by some of our citizens with others from the surrounding district at the house of Mr. Geo. Glaister, the principal event of the evening being a presentation of a set of silver ware to Mrs. Glaister in appreciation of her success as a competitor at the Industrial Exhibition in Winnipeg. The evening was spent very pleasantly, Mr. T. McKay, M.L.A., acting as chairman. Short addresses were given by the chairman and Messrs. Young, Johnson and A. Campbell. A number of addresses as well as a number of songs were given by Mr. Paul, who contributed largely to the entertainment. Numerous selections of music vocal and instrumental, added to the life of the proceedings, and the climax was attained when the whole number present were invited to partake of the sumptuous repast prepared by the hostess, and which appeared to be fully appreciated, judging from the fire with which the crowd sang "For they are Jolly Good Fellows." At the close of the meal the room was cleared of furniture for the gay and festive dance.

Our citizens who started for the Hill via the ridge missed a treat. Great Caesar, you should be more careful in the selection of your guide, socially and politically.

MISS HILL

Is now prepared to take a limited number of pupils in music—vocal and instrumental, painting and drawing. Fortin's etc., apply at J. M. Campbell's residence or J. L. Johnson & Co's office.

THE HUDSON'S BAY CO.'S EAST AND WEST END STORES

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

Deep interest is being manifested in the work of this great Exposition, and already thousands of persons are engaged throughout the world in collecting information, and securing specimens illustrating the arts of every department of science. In connection with the "Department of Ethnology and Archaeology," special observers have been appointed, who will seek to obtain the assistance of collectors, that important facts relating to the Indian tribes, and articles of native manufacture illustrating the manners and customs of the people may be preserved. It is desirable that a lodge or wigwam belonging to every tribe be received, with all its appurtenances, so that ethnologists may be able to study the characteristics of each tribe. The Canadian Northwest is a rich field for the Ethnologist and Archaeologist, and it is important that the heads of the department have recognized this, and sought help in this direction. Collectors are already at work in Alberta; but we are anxious to have every tribe represented, and therefore wish to enlist the services of many others throughout the country. Many of our settlers have accumulated specimens, and articles of Indian manufacture which they would gladly donate for the purpose, allowing them afterwards to go to the Smithsonian Museum or the Peabody Museum. We shall be glad to hear from anyone who will act as collector, and any who will donate specimens or give us information relating to the tribes of the Northwest and the Half-breed. Each collector and donor will receive credit at the World's Exposition for the work done. The Indian tribes of Canada will be represented at the World's Exposition, and we are anxious to have a very full exhibit. Articles may be sent properly tagged with the names of donor and collector, name of location of the tribe and date to Dr. McLean, Moose Jaw, Assa., from whom information relating to the Department of Ethnology and Archaeology may be obtained. The collections made should be sent not later than August, 1892. The Exposition will be formally opened in October, 1892, but not fully opened to the public until May 1893. It is desirable that all the donations be sent in during 1892. We look for a hearty response from missionaries, teachers, Indian agents, and other persons who have become conversant with Indian life and customs.

BE ALIVE AND SHOW LIFE.

The following is taken from the Toronto World of the 18th inst.:

"This young country should possess a snap in some measure corresponding with its bright prospects. Its political parties should vie with each other in devising new avenues of progress, and suggesting means for overcoming the inevitable difficulties met by nation makers. Yet we find in the country a party with a spirit dead and heavy within it—a spirit that forever gumbles, groans and reviles as useless all attempts at progress. In the name of conscience what is there in such a party to attract the bounding energies of the young, with whom hope is as natural as the air we breathe?"

The young man should strive to belong to that party which prospers when the country prospers, and shun the party that waits in opposition to welcome a famine as a favor from God.

He should belong to the party that gains strength when the crops are good, and should fight with the enthusiasm of youth against the party that watches with an evil eye for the first joyful sign of an August frost in the Northwest.

He should belong to the party that defends the country from foreign and domestic liars and calls upon Canada to stand upon her own half of this continent, and he should oppose that party which counsels a weak surrender and plays upon the fears of the timid amongst us.

He should belong to the party that becomes entrenched in power as the nation's credit improves, as the banks declare better dividends, as the mercantile agricultural and all the varied interests of the country thrive, and he should smite up and thigh that ill-omened party which only approaches success on occasions when potato bugs are busiest, when rust, frost and hail ruin grain crops, when trains leave the track and ships go down at sea, when business failures occur on every hand and banks topple over and produce a financial panic.

He should belong to the party that is constituted to rule while the country is faring well, and he should keep clear of the party that stands in sombre supplies by an open grave ready to flatter at the country's burial—a party that explains its genuine accountment by alleging that the country has galloping consumption, a torpid liver, a diseased heart—a party that talks an unrelenting streak of wise that would infuse debility into the stoutest constitution.

In fine, the young man should be a sound Canadian, and as the political parties exist to day he should be a Tory and not a Grit. Perhaps his family traditions tell him that in times past the Tory party has been the enemy of progress—it is his present duty to take parties as they are. The young man who is so fortunate as to have had a grandfather whose political principles were worth emulation should study them and stand by them though changed times may now locate him in the tents of Toryism, against which his grandfather carved with fury. The young man should make it a matter of policy, not one of party name. He should be a hopeful Canadian, with the energy to do and dare. He should shun the emulating atmosphere of the Grit camp."

I CURE FITS!

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed to do so, I feel now needing a cure, send at once for a treatise and a free bottle of my infallible remedy. Give EXPRSS and POST OFFICE.

By buying your goods from F. C. Baker, you get for your money a large Art Photo of Niagara Falls.

And now our river street friend should abandon the patent inside, which has caused him so much trouble in the past. On second thought however, would it be wise? There is room for two papers in Prince Albert, and without the patent inside perhaps there would be no further need of publishing the Saskatchewan.

Y. Independent, Nor West Farmer, Grip, Pall Mall Budget, Vancouver News, the Chotanquan.

Saskatchewan sends her word of sympathy to the snow blockaded points of the east. A long residence in this tropical belt has bunted our conception of what it is possible for a snow storm to do, but we begin to realize even here we are at its mercy. Our mails are delayed, and in a wide awake town like Prince Albert, this alone is a serious matter.

A public meeting was held in the Town Hall last evening to consider the matter of exempting the C. P. R. from taxes for a term of years. Mayor Johnson called the meeting to order at 8 p.m., and after fully explaining the action taken by the Council, a resolution was passed appointing a committee to correspond with Supt. Whyte of the C. P. R. in order to come to satisfactory arrangements with the C. P. R.

The curlers of the town are unusually slow this season in getting their rinks in readiness. The Argyle Club will curl on the river at the steamboat landing, where an excellent rink has been laid out on the sand bar at that point. It is now ready for flooding. The Saskatchewan curlers will soap'er up in the old building. Their rink has already been flooded and a good sheet of ice made. The rinks are now being put in shape by the old reliable, who will keep them in order during the curling season, so that a good winter's amusement is assured.

Those who wish to select a Christmas Souvenir to send to friends abroad could not make a more fitting choice than the Christmas number of the Dominion Illustrated, which will be out in ample time and which will be the most beautiful and interesting purely Canadian publication ever issued. The supplements, the illustrations, the stories, poems and sketches are all Canadian, and will cheer the heart of many a one who cannot come to Canada for Christmas, but who will gladly welcome such a Christmas greeting.

The ladies of the town intend holding a bazaar in aid of Victoria Hospital in the Town Hall on Friday the 18th inst. Intending purchasers will have a large quantity of Fancy Goods, Japanese Curios, Toys and useful articles suitable for holiday gifts to select their Xmas presents from. The bazaar will be open during the afternoon and evening, and as refreshments will be provided at a nominal cost, you need not bring your lunch with you. The ladies have taken a great deal of trouble in getting up this bazaar and have made a most creditable display, so we advise those wishing to purchase presents for their friends to wait until the 18th, if they wish something neat and elegant at a moderate price.

The Northwest Library is beginning to assume large proportions. The new catalogue, one of which we received by last mail, shows that already the Territories possess a choice collection of standard works on Religion, Political Economy, History, Geography, Science and a large list of miscellaneous matter. The collection is made particularly valuable to the Territories by some rare works on the early life and times of this then almost unknown country. The catalogue shows, apart altogether from the Law Books which amount to about 1500 volumes, 2000 volumes of valuable works all neatly arranged and under the careful guardianship of Miss K. Hayes an old resident of Prince Albert. Nearly all the territorial newspapers and many foreign ones are also kept on file. We regret however, to notice that the list does not contain the name of Prince Albert's leading organ. We will take every action towards rectifying the neglect.

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Bo-schee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Bo-schee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior.
